Pregnant? Considering Adoption?

- ❖ There are many emotions that come with an unplanned pregnancy. You may be feeling a combination of emotions such as fear, excitement, panic and the “what am I going to do” feeling. Here at Connections, we want to talk to you about your thoughts, feelings and answer questions you may have about adoption and the adoption process.
- ❖ We know there are many choices you face with an unplanned pregnancy and we are here to discuss all of those options. We have an experienced adoption staff that answers the phone 24/7. Call 1-800-450-7191 or if you prefer text then text “adoption” to 69302.
- ❖ There are many types of adoption plans and adoption does not have to be a final goodbye. If you choose, you may receive pictures, updates and contact from the adoptive parents you have chosen on a periodic basis so you can still remind your child from time to time of your love.
- ❖ That is the basic premise of the most popular types of adoption – open or semi-open adoption. However, one of these may not be the adoption plan you feel is best for you and your child, then you may still choose a closed adoption. The decision is yours.

Adoption Through Us

We are true believers that adoption can be a wonderful alternative when life circumstances make it difficult to parent. We offer three different programs for you to pick from – we list them below.

Client Base Program

There are couples who have contacted us to help find a birthmother and/or agency so that they may adopt. What will happen if you are matched with one of our clients that have contacted us, is that we will make sure that you get medical care, legal consultation, and counseling in your area, as well as any extra expenses allowed by your state. All information is given in the strictest of confidentiality. We will be your contact persons and “go-betweens” at first between you and the client.

Parent Find

We will work hard in finding just the right couple to adopt your baby. We network with over 300 agencies across the U.S. that have files of waiting parents. We’re sure that we can find just the right couple for you and the baby. Whether that be a blended couple, Caucasian couple, or an African American couple.

Agency/Attorney Find

In some situations, you may want to work strictly with an attorney. We will do the research to make sure that you are working with the best of people. Again, because of our networking, we know who are the good people out there to help.

All programs are offered to you without any expense, and again stressing that all is confidential. If you are interested in any of these programs, call us at 1-800-450-7191.

How Adoption Works

Whether working through an agency, attorney, or a facilitator, the most important thing is to get you to a doctor to start pre-natal care if you do not have one. This can be paid for in a couple of ways. If you have your own insurance plan, through your parents insurance plan, Medicaid if you qualify, or if the adoptive couple you have selected has agreed to pay for medical cost.

- A medical release form will be given to you to give to your doctor, so that medical information can be reviewed by the above named or the couple planning on adopting the baby.
- After you are set up with your medical part, the very next thing is to make sure that you are emotionally healthy. Adoption is not an easy decision, or one to be taken lightly. You will be set up to see a counselor, before, during, and after delivery. This is your support system to help get you through a tough time.
- After you have seen a counselor a couple of times, and you do want to continue on with the adoption plan, then you will need to seek some type of legal advice. If going through an agency, they will have attorneys on staff, if going through an attorney, then he/she will take care of it, and if going through a net worker, or facilitator, they will find an attorney for you & the birth father in regards to legal work.

Again, the couple adopting the baby pays for these fees.

- It is illegal in the United States for a pre-adoptive couple to pay any extra money. Payment for living expenses, i.e.: rent, utilities, taxi money, can be reimbursed through an attorney and/or agency only. A receipt for these expenses is usually required.
- The next thing to do is to establish a relationship with the couple who is adopting the baby if you are having an open adoption. Usually this is done by phone conversations, letters, picture exchanges, and if the couple is local, through visits with one another.
- Then it is time to sit back, and wait for the birth, and to realize that there are many people out there who want to help you through this trying period of your life.

Mary Guiseley, PRESIDENT/CEO/OWNER

My name is Mary Guiseley. I am a 52-year-old mother of two adopted children. Like many of you, I have struggled through infertility, not once, but twice. I know well the heartbreak and physical pain of the process.

In 1992, my husband and I decided adoption was our answer, and in August of that year our daughter, Jackie, was born – with my husband in the delivery room. Just after her birth, with a good comfort level, we totally opened the contact with her birthmother, Amy.
